Project

Description

The history teachers at the independent Waldorf School in Innsbruck wanted to bring the students closer to the subjects of Jewish persecution and National Socialism through practical work. After an intensive preparatory phase at the beginning of the academic year, between 26 and 30 November 1999 the students travelled to the Young People's Centre Buchenwald. The work primarily consisted of freeing up the grounds and restoration and upkeep work. The program was developed with the memorial site and people carrying out memorial service from Austria.
